Lanier Shows Vok Spirit

Pep rallies are a part of every football season. In the year 1983-84, the football team came up winless, but all Voks were winners when it came to spirit. The band showed its spirit at every pep rally and especially at the Color Week pep rally. The Blue Jackets danced at the Chili Bowl pep rally. All Senior Voks showed their true colors at the Senior pep rally during Color Week. Andy and Alice love the Voks during Color Week.

Voks Are a United Team

The Chili Bowl has traditionally been the last game played during football season. This year, the Chili Bowl which Lanier, and our rival, Fox Tech, battle for was played on November 3, 1983, at the Alamo Stadium. Lanier students proved they are a united team by showing up at the game to support the Voks. Seniors didn't let the Voks down! Drum Major, Dean Solis, led the band through another one of its super performances. Martin Neira didn't let anything stop him from attending the game (not even CRUTCHES). The Vok players didn't give Tech an easy win, they played a good, tough game!!! The R.O.T.C. made a sharp appearance with their polished helmets, and rifles. The cheerleaders took a break during halftime to revive their energy! Lanier students have always done a great job of supporting their team, and it looks as though they'll continue doing so!

Is Painting Run Throughs Worth Your Time??

I'll bet you thought run throughs grew on trees. Well, not quite. They are a lot of hard work, sometimes even trouble.

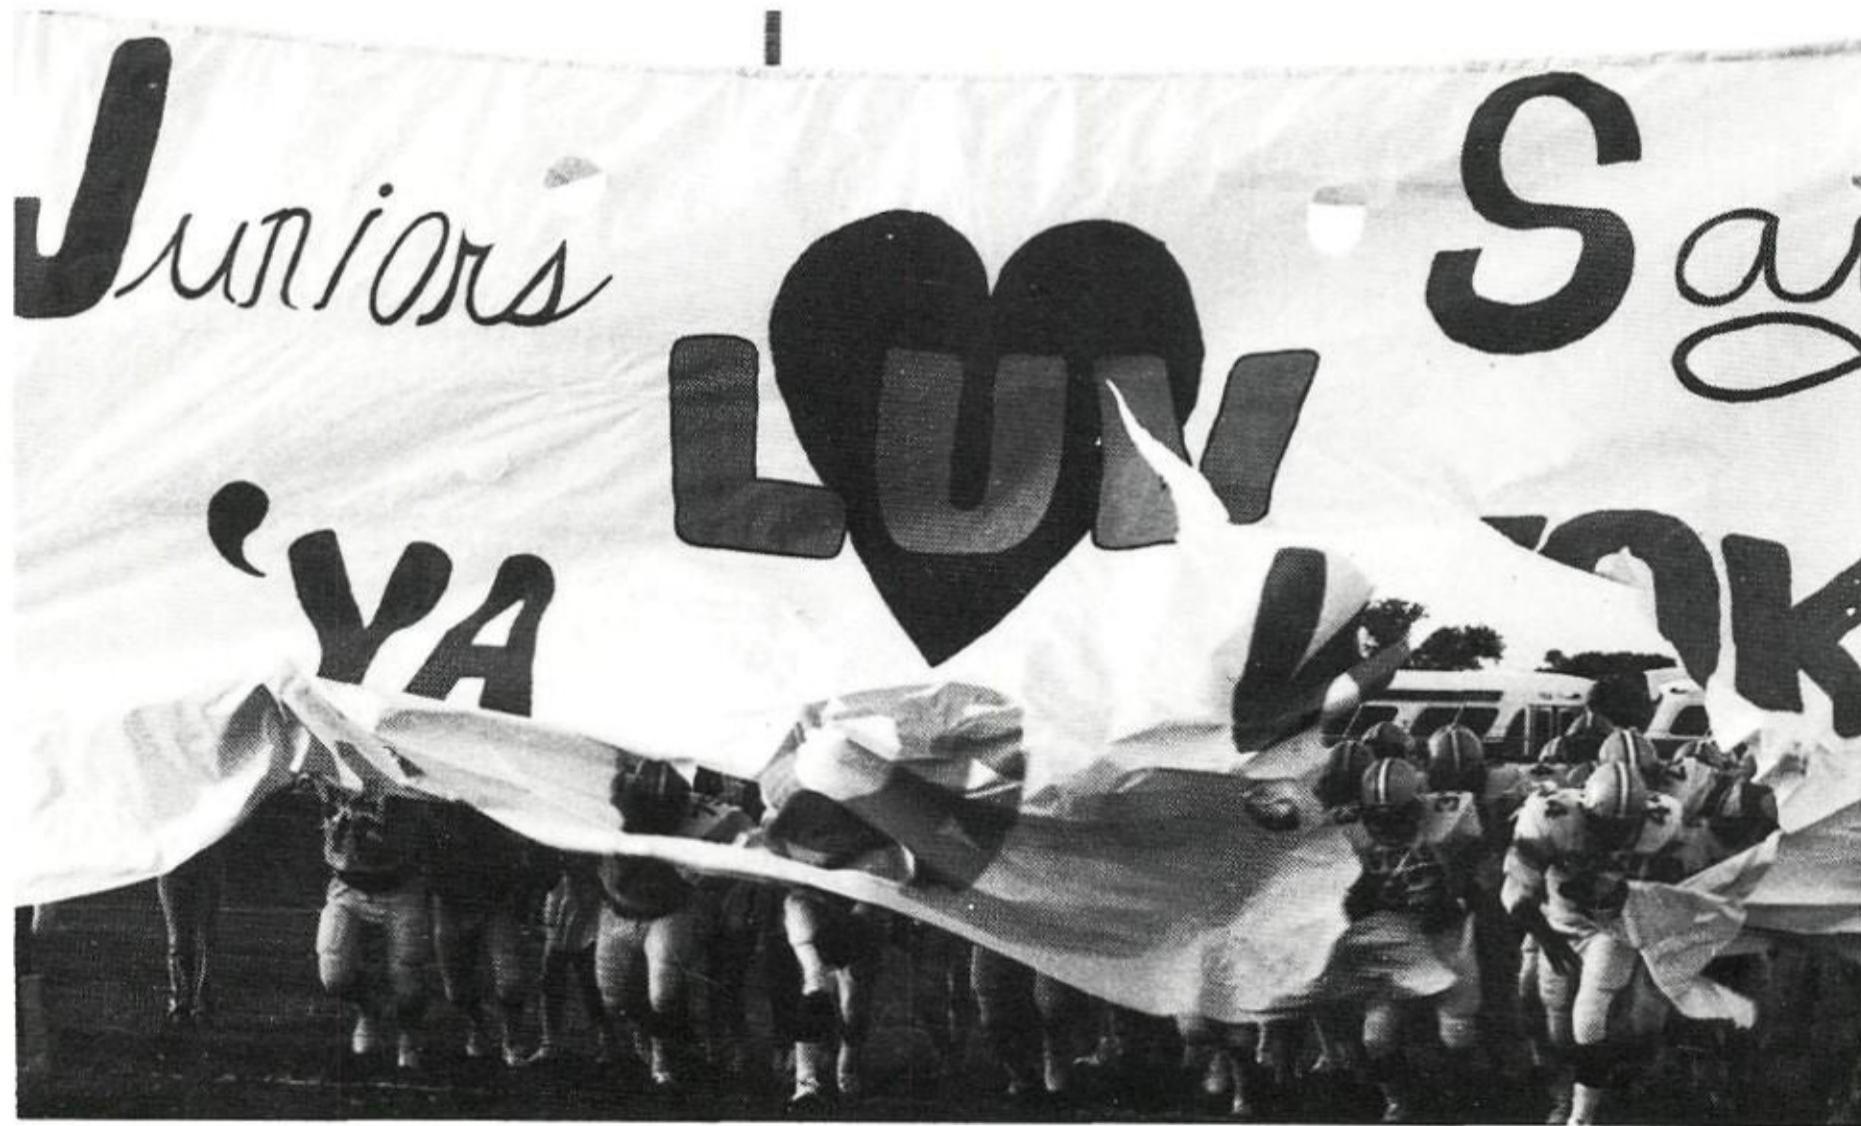

Run throughs involve creative thinking, loads of help, and a lot of free time. Each of these oversized cartoons is the result of hours of hard work by students who stay late after school while everyone else is watching T.V.

These dedicated Voks are in the mall for two or three hours a day painting, cutting, and taping the paper to be ready for the next game.

Is all of this hard work worth it? The run throughs last only for a few minutes before they are torn to pieces by enthusiastic football players.

Jeanette Vasquez, junior, says, "It is worth it because after you've completed it, you know you've accomplished something, and you're proud of it." Mary Helen Rodriguez, senior, says, "Painting the run throughs is fun and it holds many memories for us. It also gives us a chance to support our school and team."

In the future, students will continue creating the run throughs for each football game. Wait till they hear that the other athletic teams want run throughs, also!

Color Week Will Hold

Color Week is without a doubt, the most colorful week throughout the school year. There are posters everywhere you turn, there are pep rallies, there is laughter as we see students and teachers dressed in the most unusual ways. Debbie Enriquez, senior, says, "It was my last Color Week as a senior, and I'll always have it in my memories because it was so much fun." Michael Gubanche, junior, says, "It was a lot of fun . . . I liked it!!!!" Carol Cantu, junior, says, "I hope it will be just as much fun next year!"

Many Colorful Memories

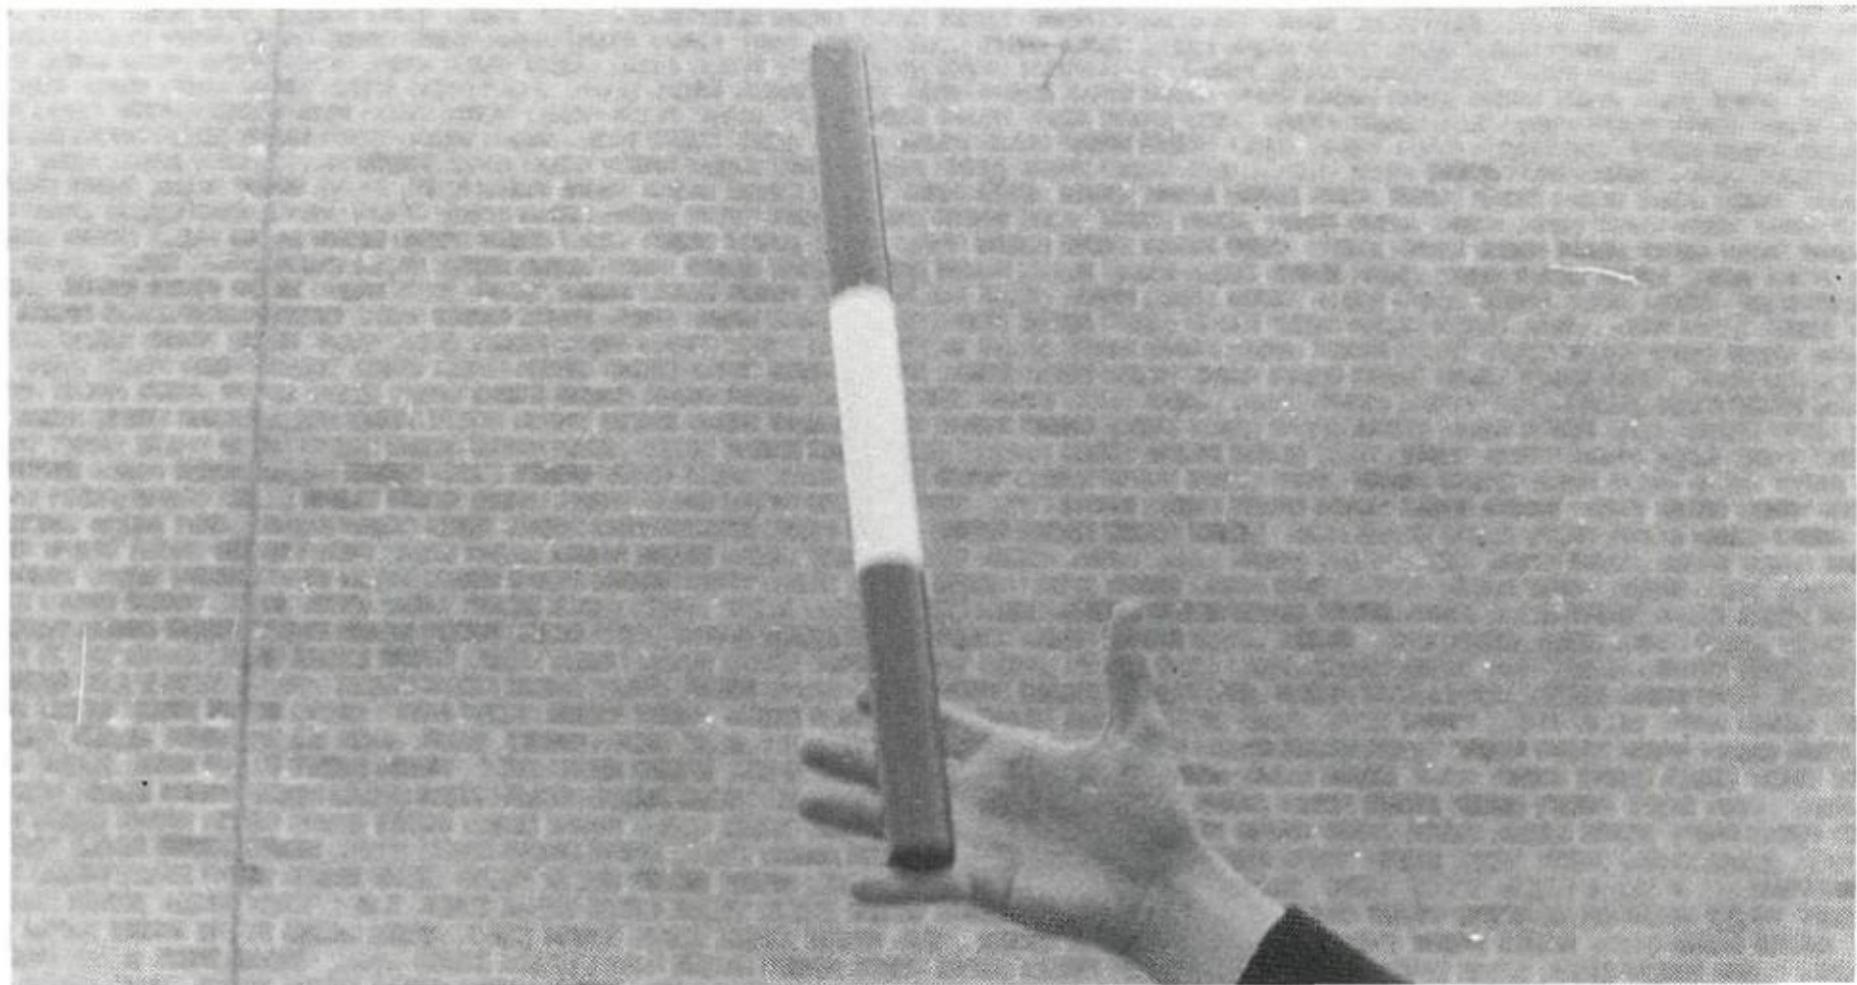

Seniors Awarded Controversial Spirit Stick After Chili Bowl Pep Rally

It is quite safe to say that a pep rally is climaxed by the awarding of the Spirit Stick. A pep rally reaches its zenith when each class engages in friendly competition for the right to say that they are the most spirited.

The Spirit Stick is obtained by the cheerleaders during the course of their camp, and used for each pep rally. The class that is loudest is awarded the Spirit Stick and keeps it for a week. It is then turned in, and the process is repeated during the following pep rally.

Last year, the Spirit Stick was not allowed at times because the student body would grow too enthusiastic yelling for their own class. This year, the cheerleaders emphasized cheering for the school and the Voks instead of everyone's own class before each pep rally.

During the Chili Bowl pep rally this year, the Spirit Stick was not awarded as a result of a cut-back in the length of the pep rally. Many students were aggravated at the fact that the pep rally was stopped at its peak, but when the records started flying, so did anyone's chances of winning the Spirit Stick. Yoly Aranda, cheerleader, felt that the Spirit Stick should have been awarded because the students would have been given the chance to show their true spirit. Margie Berrones touched on the fact that it was unfair not only to the students for their hard work and effort, but to the school itself. In the end, the seniors were awarded the Spirit Stick. Whatever the case, the Spirit Stick will inevitably be a major part of many pep rallies to come.

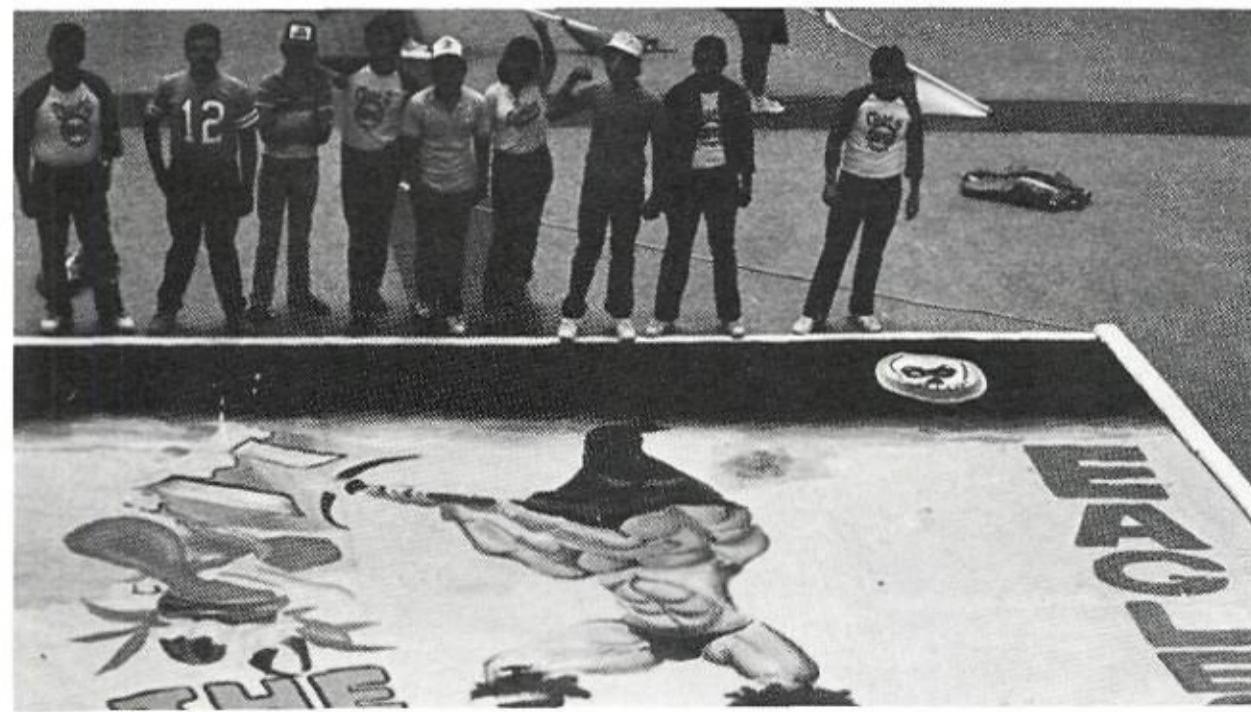

Spirit Committees are Filled With Hard Workers

The Spirit Committees kept busy all year long. During Color Week, the Spirit Committees from each class stayed after school long hours painting banners to decorate Lanier. Each class had different activities of its own.

The Junior class sponsored a pizza party at Chuck E. Cheese and a Sweetheart Dance. The money raised will be used for the Junior/Senior Prom. The Senior Class sponsored the Christmas Dance, and the Senior Talent Show which were both very successful.

All the classes have been hard working and agree that they have had a successful year.

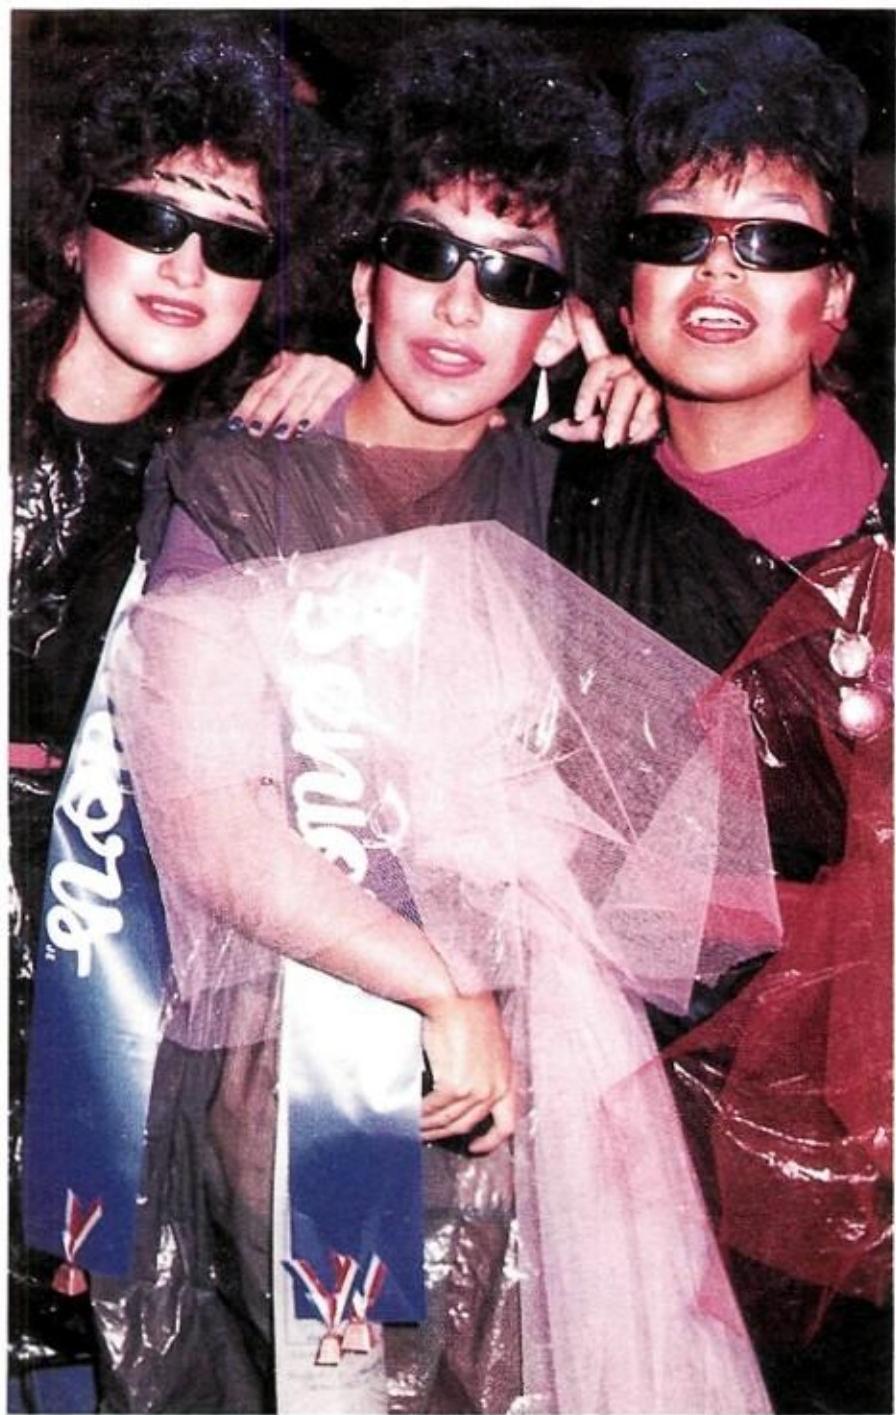

Get the Rhythm of Color Week

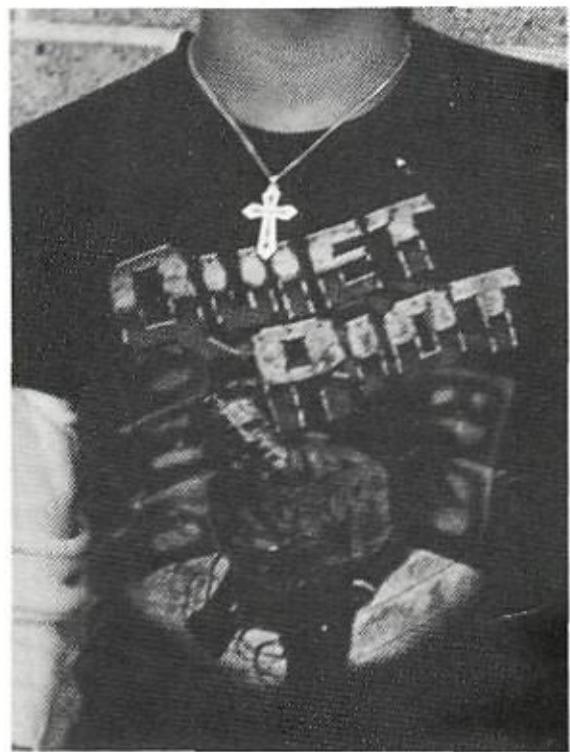

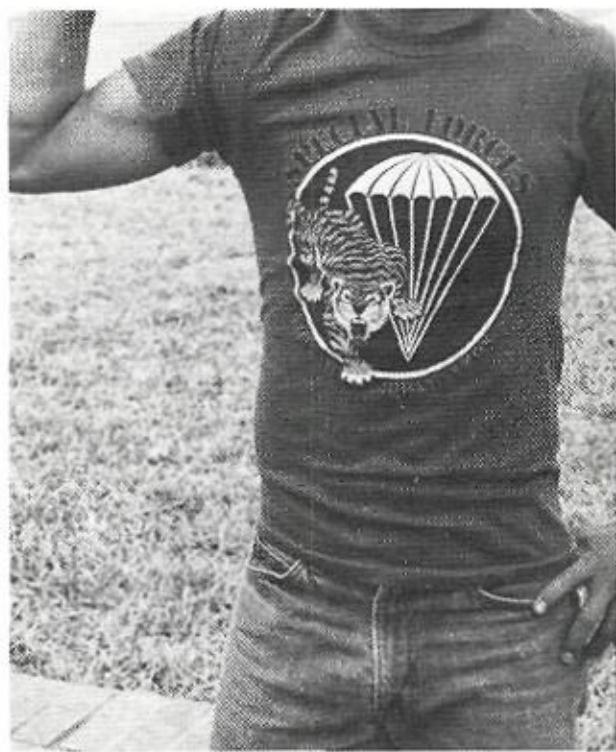

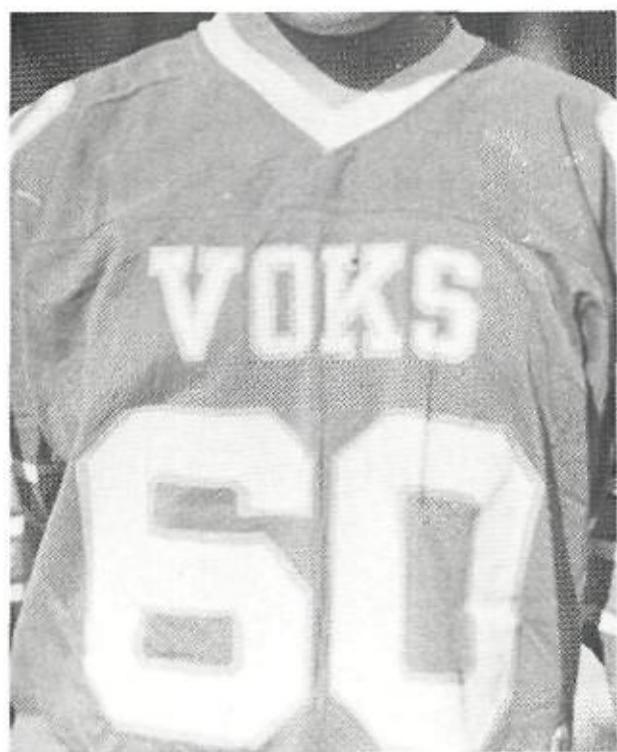

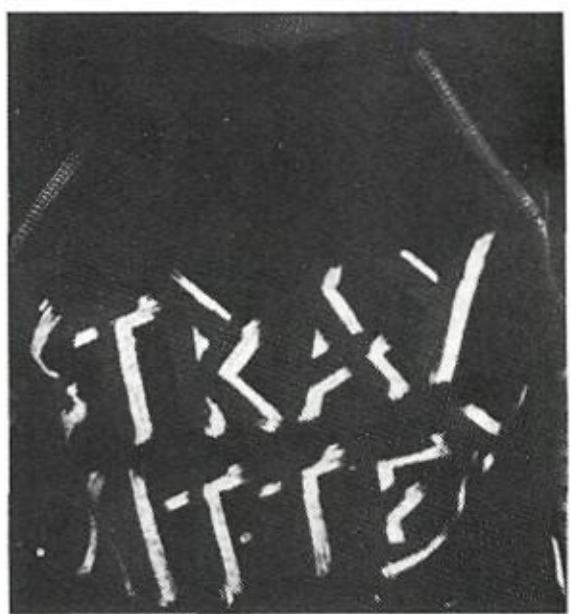

Well, another Color Week has come and gone, but it has left many special memories for the graduating seniors, and underclassmen are looking forward to next year's Color Week with even more enthusiasm.

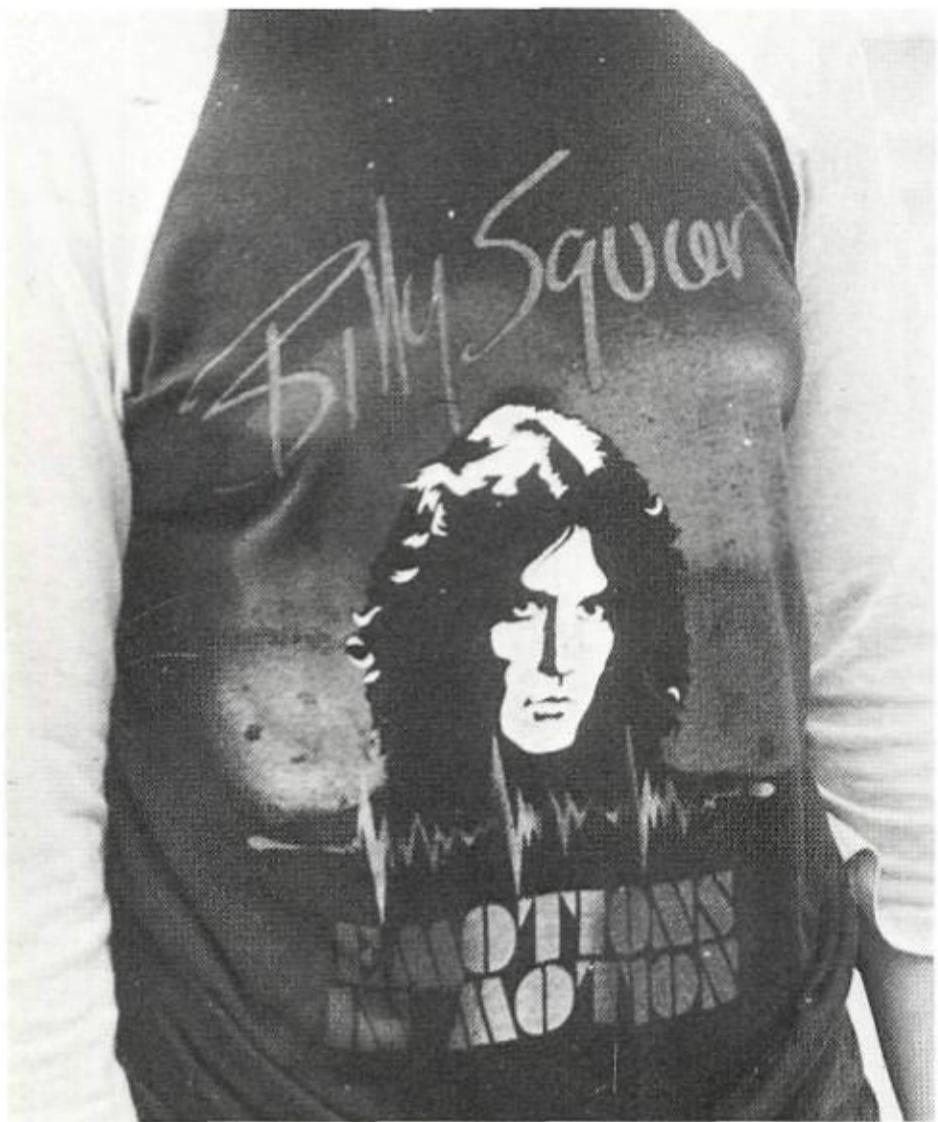

The Chili Bowl pep rally, without the spirit stick, will long be remembered. So will the sounds of Auto Mechanic's Drum Set booming through the malls during the pep rally. The student body can't easily forget the "strange" faces they met each morning as people decorated themselves in the most humorous costumes ever designed! And wasn't it great getting all that YUCKY paint on yourselves while painting run throughs, and painting posters to decorate the mall!!!!!!! There is a lot more excitement and fun in store for next year. But until then . . . Long will those Lanier flags you bought during Color Week wave!!!

T-Shirts: Some Things Never Change

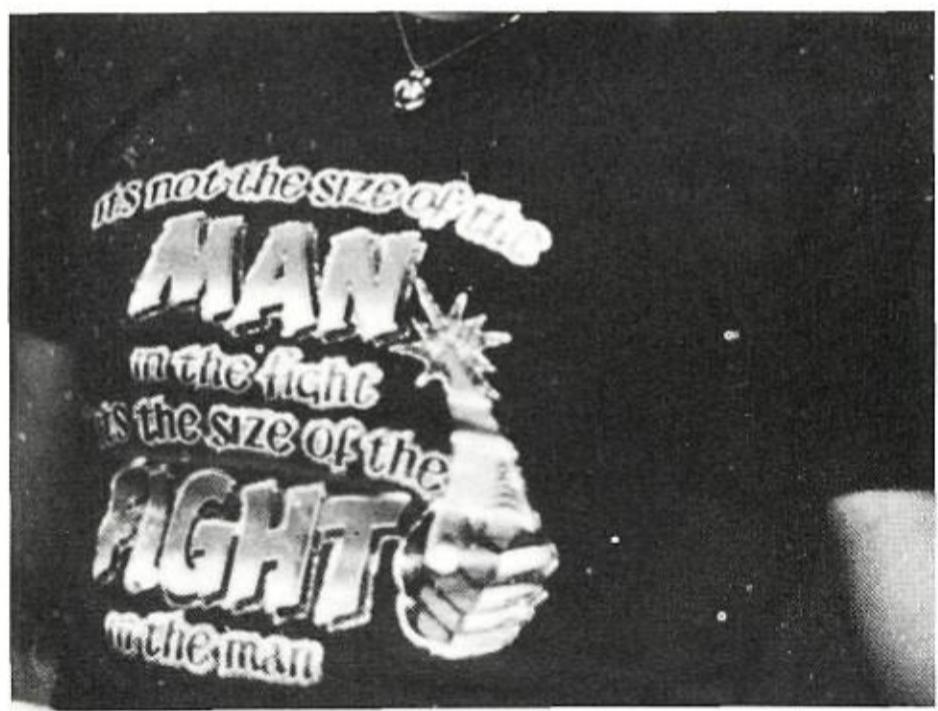

The more things change, the more they stay the same; especially T-shirts. The origin of the T-shirt is lost in the pages of fashion history. But today the T-shirt is definitely a fashionable form of self-expression.

Who I am is what I wear . . . a T-shirt reveals a lot about a person. I can be a punk rocker one day, and a rock and roller the next day, if I want to . . .

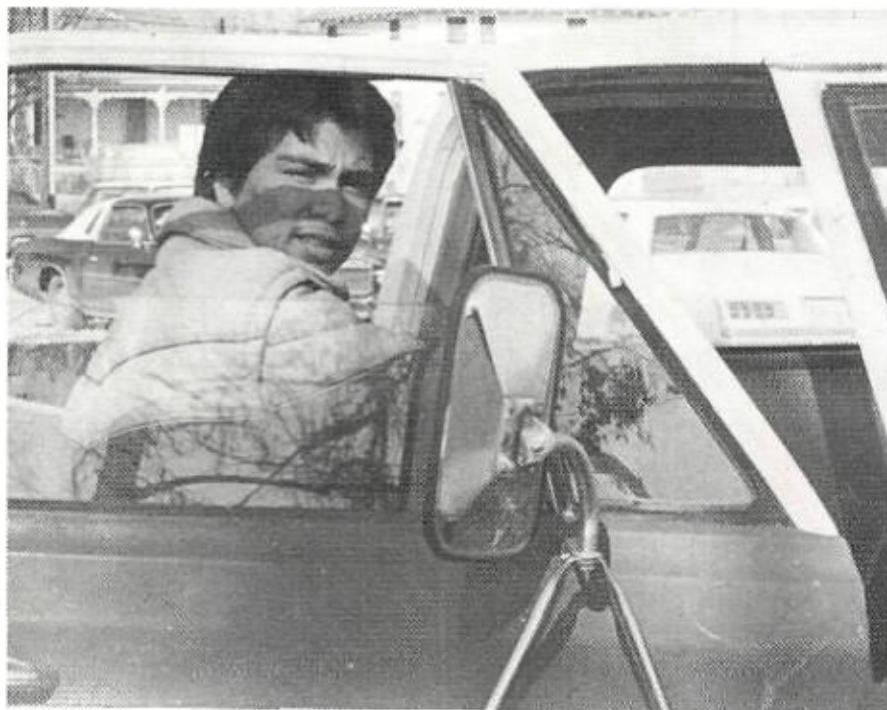

T-shirts are a sign of the 80's. But they were a sign of the 40's, 50's, and the 70's too. Current life styles, truths of life, philosophies, funny comments are all on the front of people, including ME!

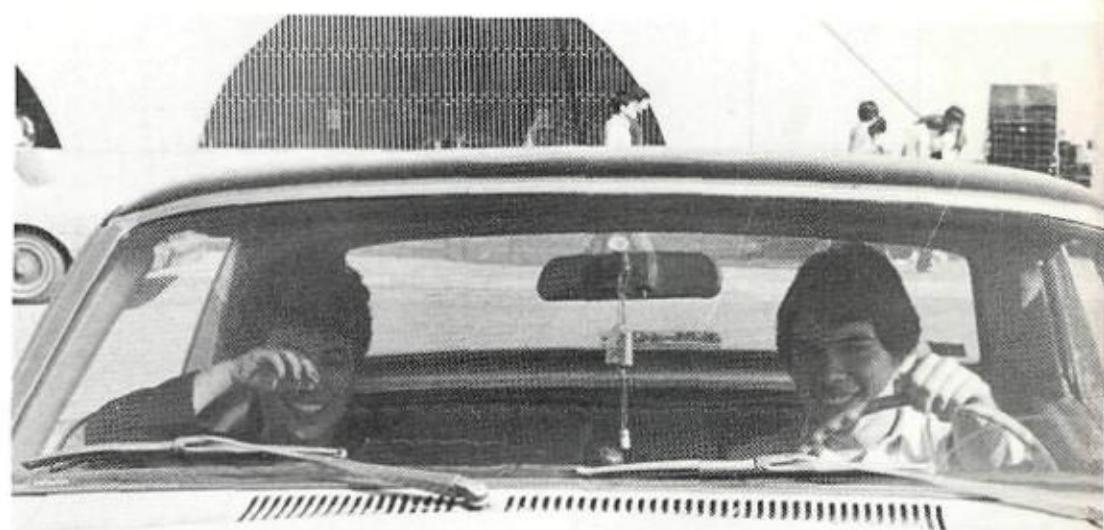

What Kind of Wheels Get You to School?

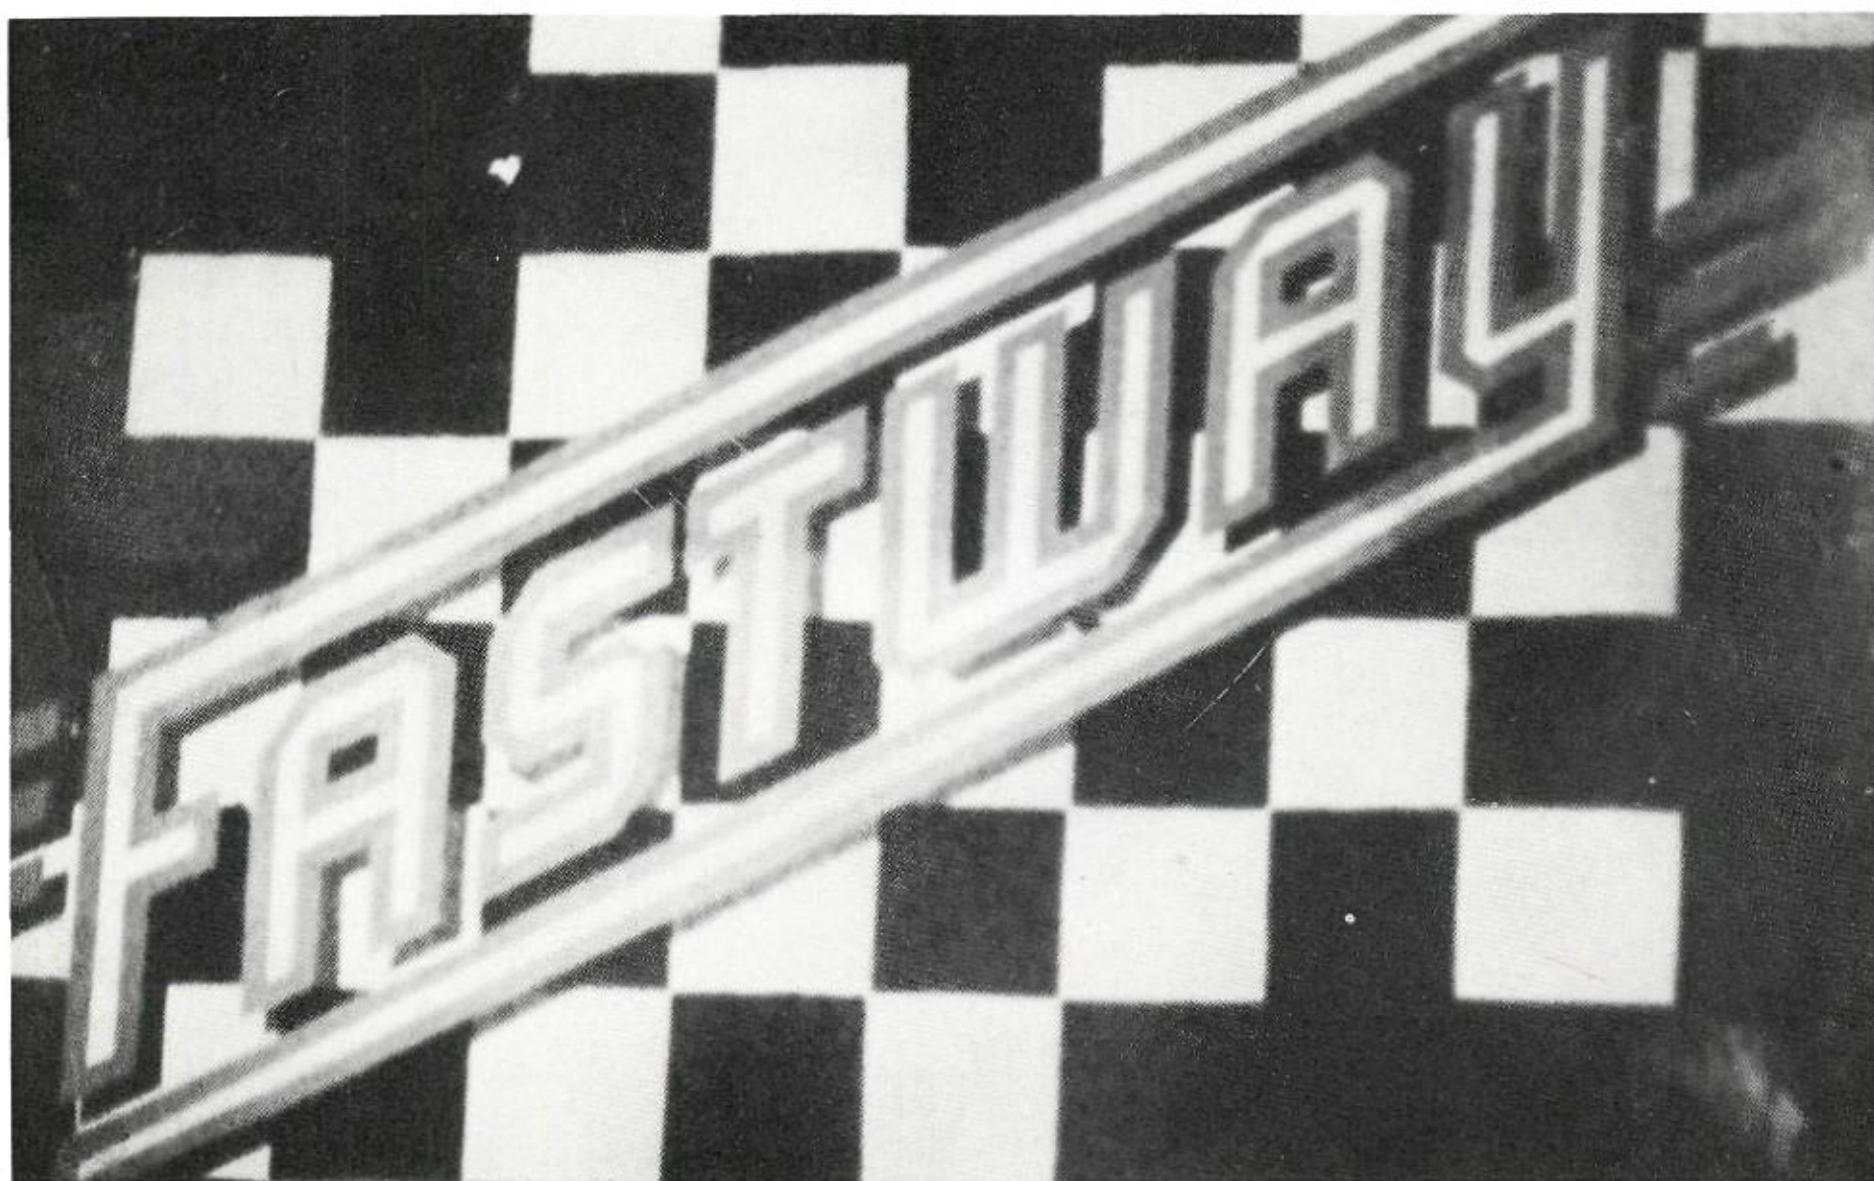

Morning always comes too soon!!! You roll out of bed, wipe the sleep out of your eyes, and drag yourself to the shower. The thought of school lurks in your mind. You throw on some clothes, race out the front door, and wonder how the heck you're going to get to school!

How do Lanier students get to school??? Oh, some of us have it easy enough. A flick of the wrist, and the car whizzes off to school. Some of us are fortunate to get a ride from a friend, while others have no alternative but the bus. Last but not least, a few of us are lucky enough to enjoy the scenery as we hoof it off to school.

Concerts . . . a way of life

Along with Fastway, Saxon was also in town while supporting Iron Maiden on a world tour. Pictured above is Graham Oliver, guitarist from the group Saxon.

It was Friday night. The concert tickets would go on sale the following morning. A friend of mine and I had decided to get to the box office early in the morning to beat the crowd. I must have stayed on the phone all night just to stay awake. Ah, but was it worth the trouble; somehow I managed to get two floor bleacher seats.

It was being called the concert of the summer. Clearly, I remember the excitement and electricity in the air as I entered the Convention Center Arena. It seemed as if the whole city of San Antonio was there that night. Chaos struck as the lights were finally dimmed; Fastway made their entrance immediately after. By the time the band Saxon finished, the audience was almost worn out. But they still had enough in them to give the band Iron Maiden quite a workout. In all, this would be a concert that would rival any other in the entire year. Yes, it was well worth the trouble.

Steve Harris from the band Iron Maiden.

Biff Byford from the band Saxon.

All Right, Who Turned Out the Lights??

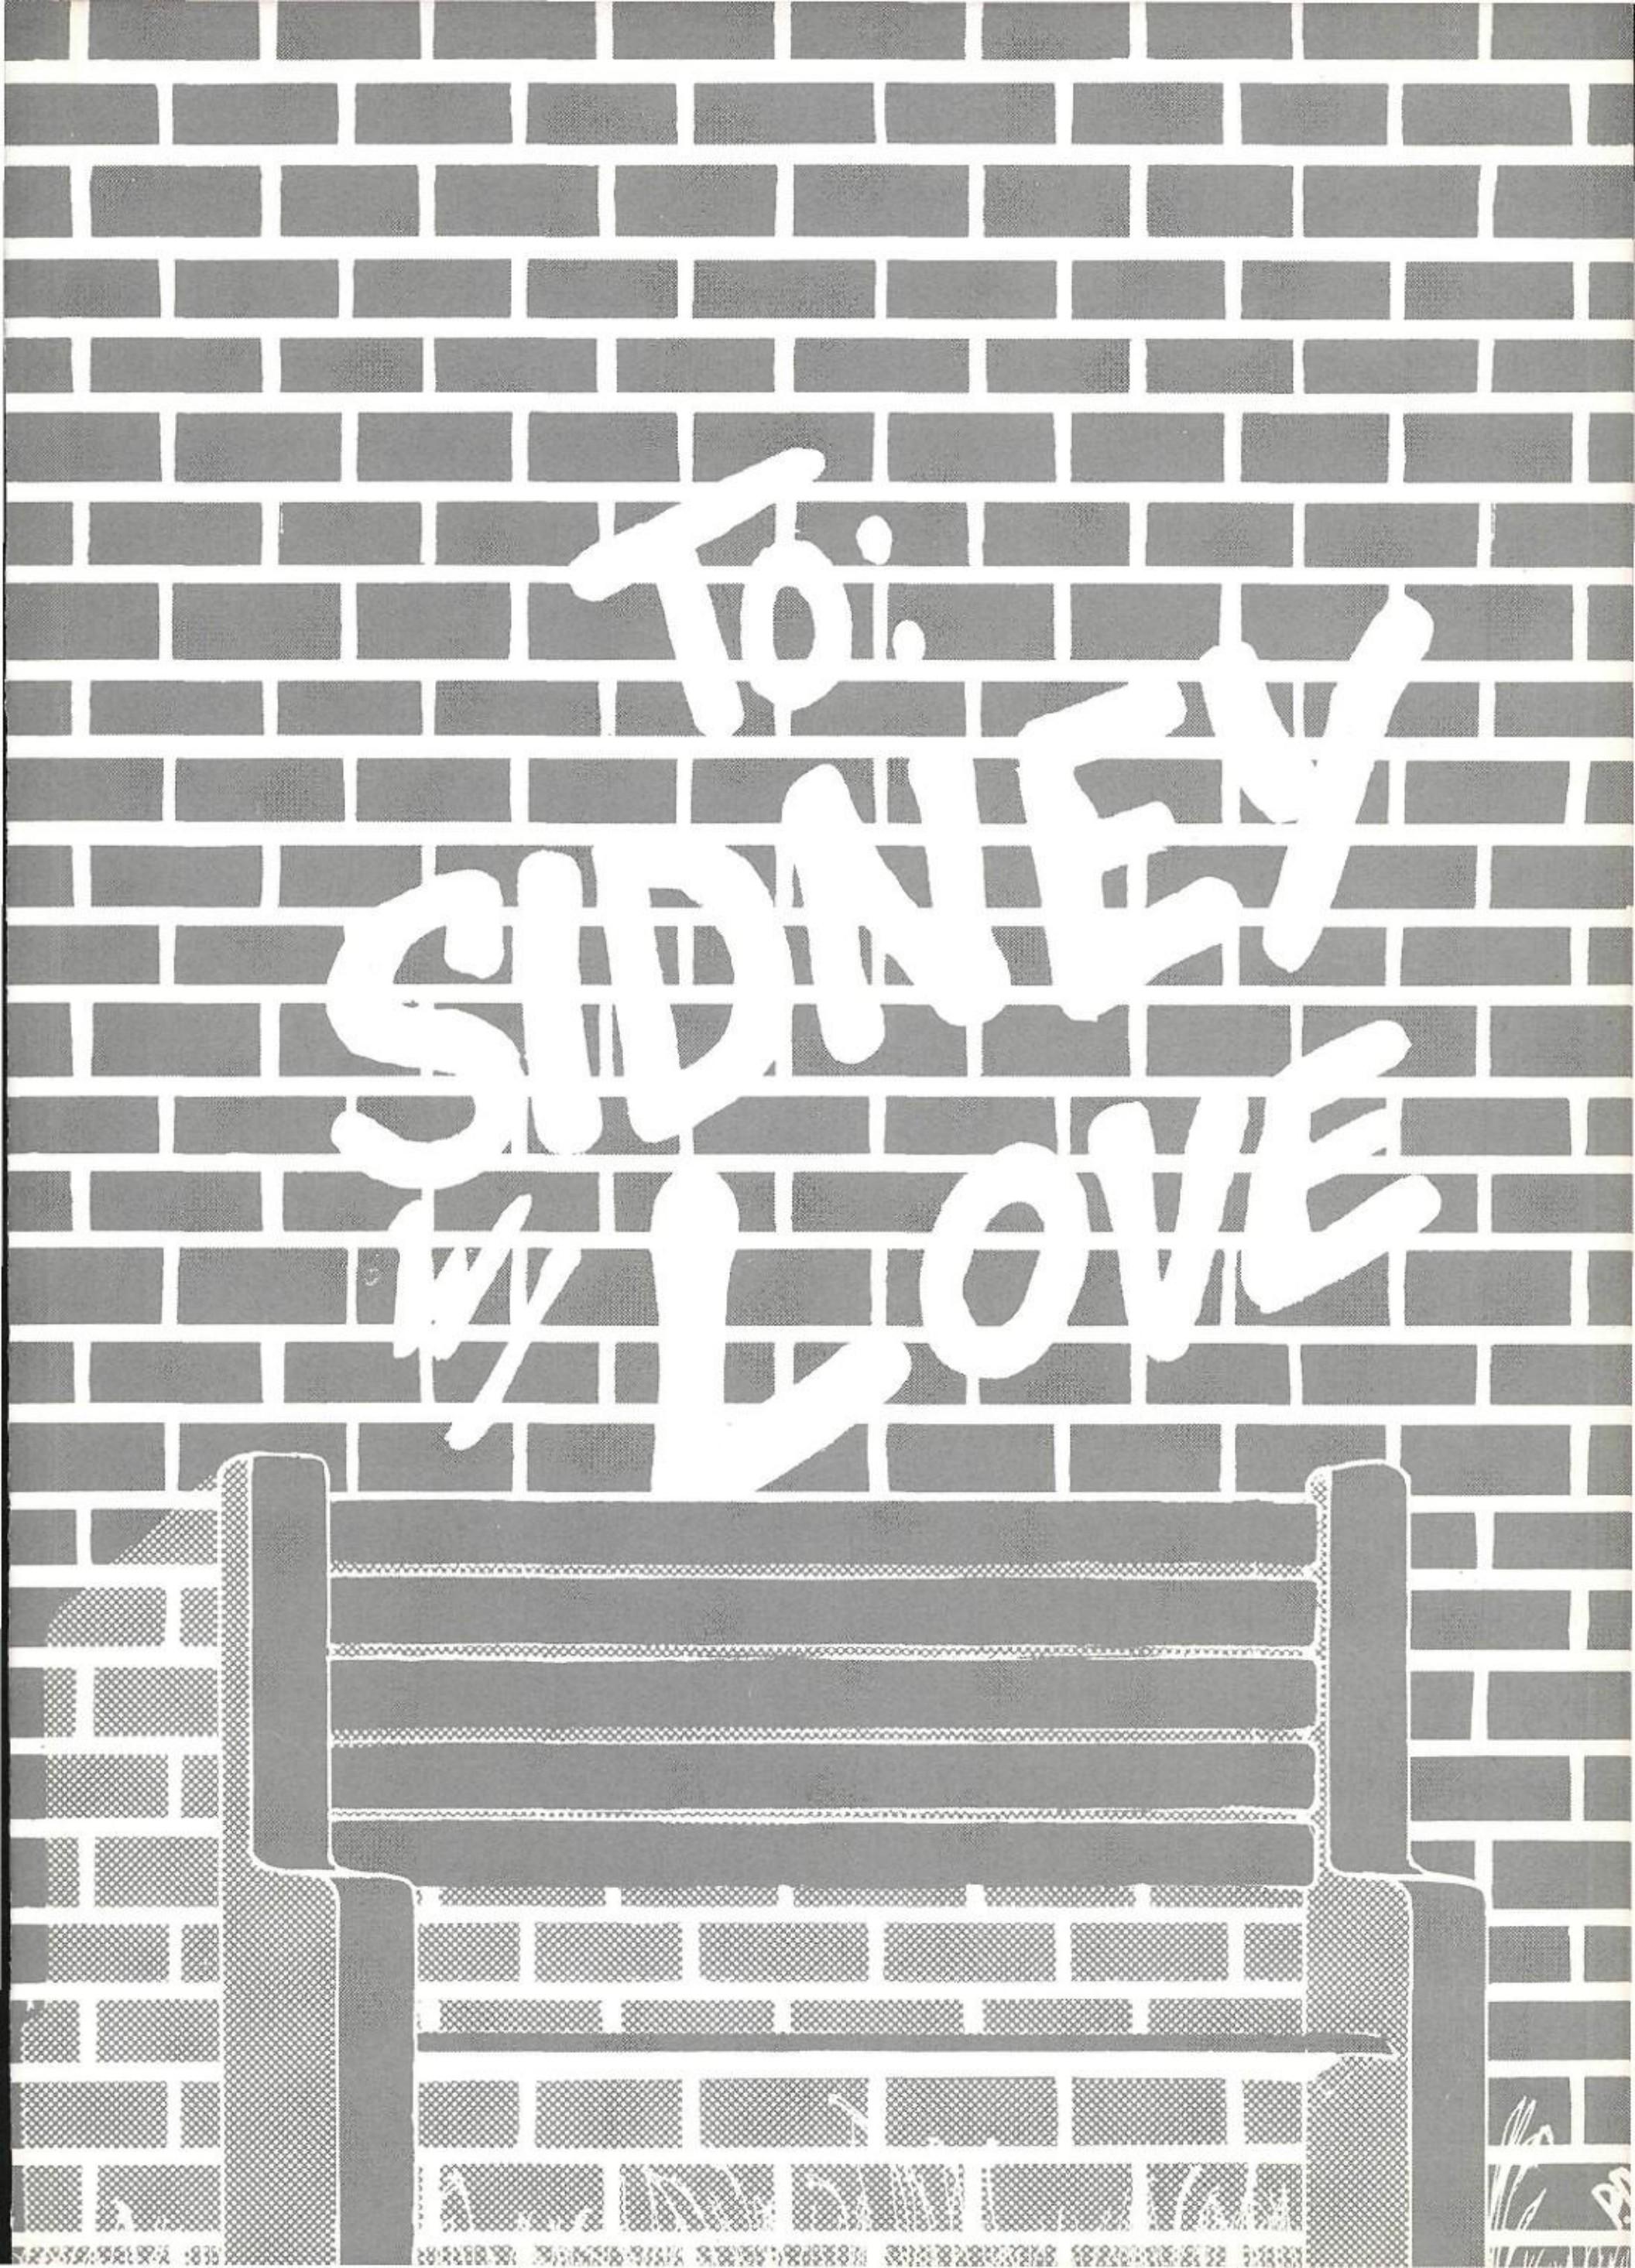

"WHAT'S HAPPENING?????" "Everybody hold on to your purses." "Hey, that's not your purse, that's mine!!" "All right, who threw that paper??!!" "Now students, settle down and quit that whistling." "You people are worse than first graders!!!" "Tony, turn off that lighter and put it away before it becomes mine!!!" "Ma'am, someone took my book!!" "Someone better give Mary back her book before I start referring people to the office!!"

"Now listen class, class, CLASS!!!!!!!"

This year we experienced four blackouts at Lanier, and each one was even more hectic than the one before! The sudden darkness somehow causes the students to go crazy!! Every outrageous thing you can think of, happens!! Gray hairs start popping out of even the youngest teachers' heads!!

Finally, everyone is asked to sit still and wait until the lights go back on. When the lights FINALLY do go back on, Mr. Almaguer comes on the P. A. system: "Teacher and students, thank you for your cooperation during the blackout, it was very much appreciated."

Oh well, what he doesn't know won't hurt him!!!!

Lanier Participates in Every year some of the organizations at Sidney Lanier High School participate in Fiesta week events, such as the Battle of Flowers Parade. Some of the organizations are the Band, Blue Jackets, Flag Team, and the Dance Team, and the R.O.T.C. This year another organization, the Student Council, designed a float for this great event.

The Band played in the Battle of Flowers Parade. The Band participated in a lot of Fiesta Week activities.

The Dance Team took great pride in participating in this event.

Ring Ceremony Tradition Continues

The graduating class of 1984 held their ring ceremony on Friday, May 25, 1984, in the Lanier auditorium at 7 p.m. in the evening.

Mrs. Alcide, senior class sponsor, had a ring ceremony of her own as the Senior class honored her with an eight diamond 14-karat ring. In her amazement, Mrs. Alcide was speechless. This was a gift of appreciation for her dedicated work.

This was a night to remember for those seniors receiving their class rings.

Mr. Salinas, principal, expressed his appreciation to the faculty and parents for supporting these bright young students.

So Much Hassle

Those graduation feelings begin in the minds of the seniors sometime in March or April and grow stronger as May approaches.

This is it, the end of a lifetime of school experiences and the beginning of new experiences for the Class of '84.

These new experiences will include college, marriage, careers but right now it's graduation time, a time for memories of the good times and the bad times, the happy times, the victories, the defeats, of friend reaching out to friend.

May 26 begins with rehearsals in the morning and excitement all day. Finally the ceremony begins at 7:30 p.m. The Convention Center Arena is full of proud friends, family members, and faculty there to watch graduation.

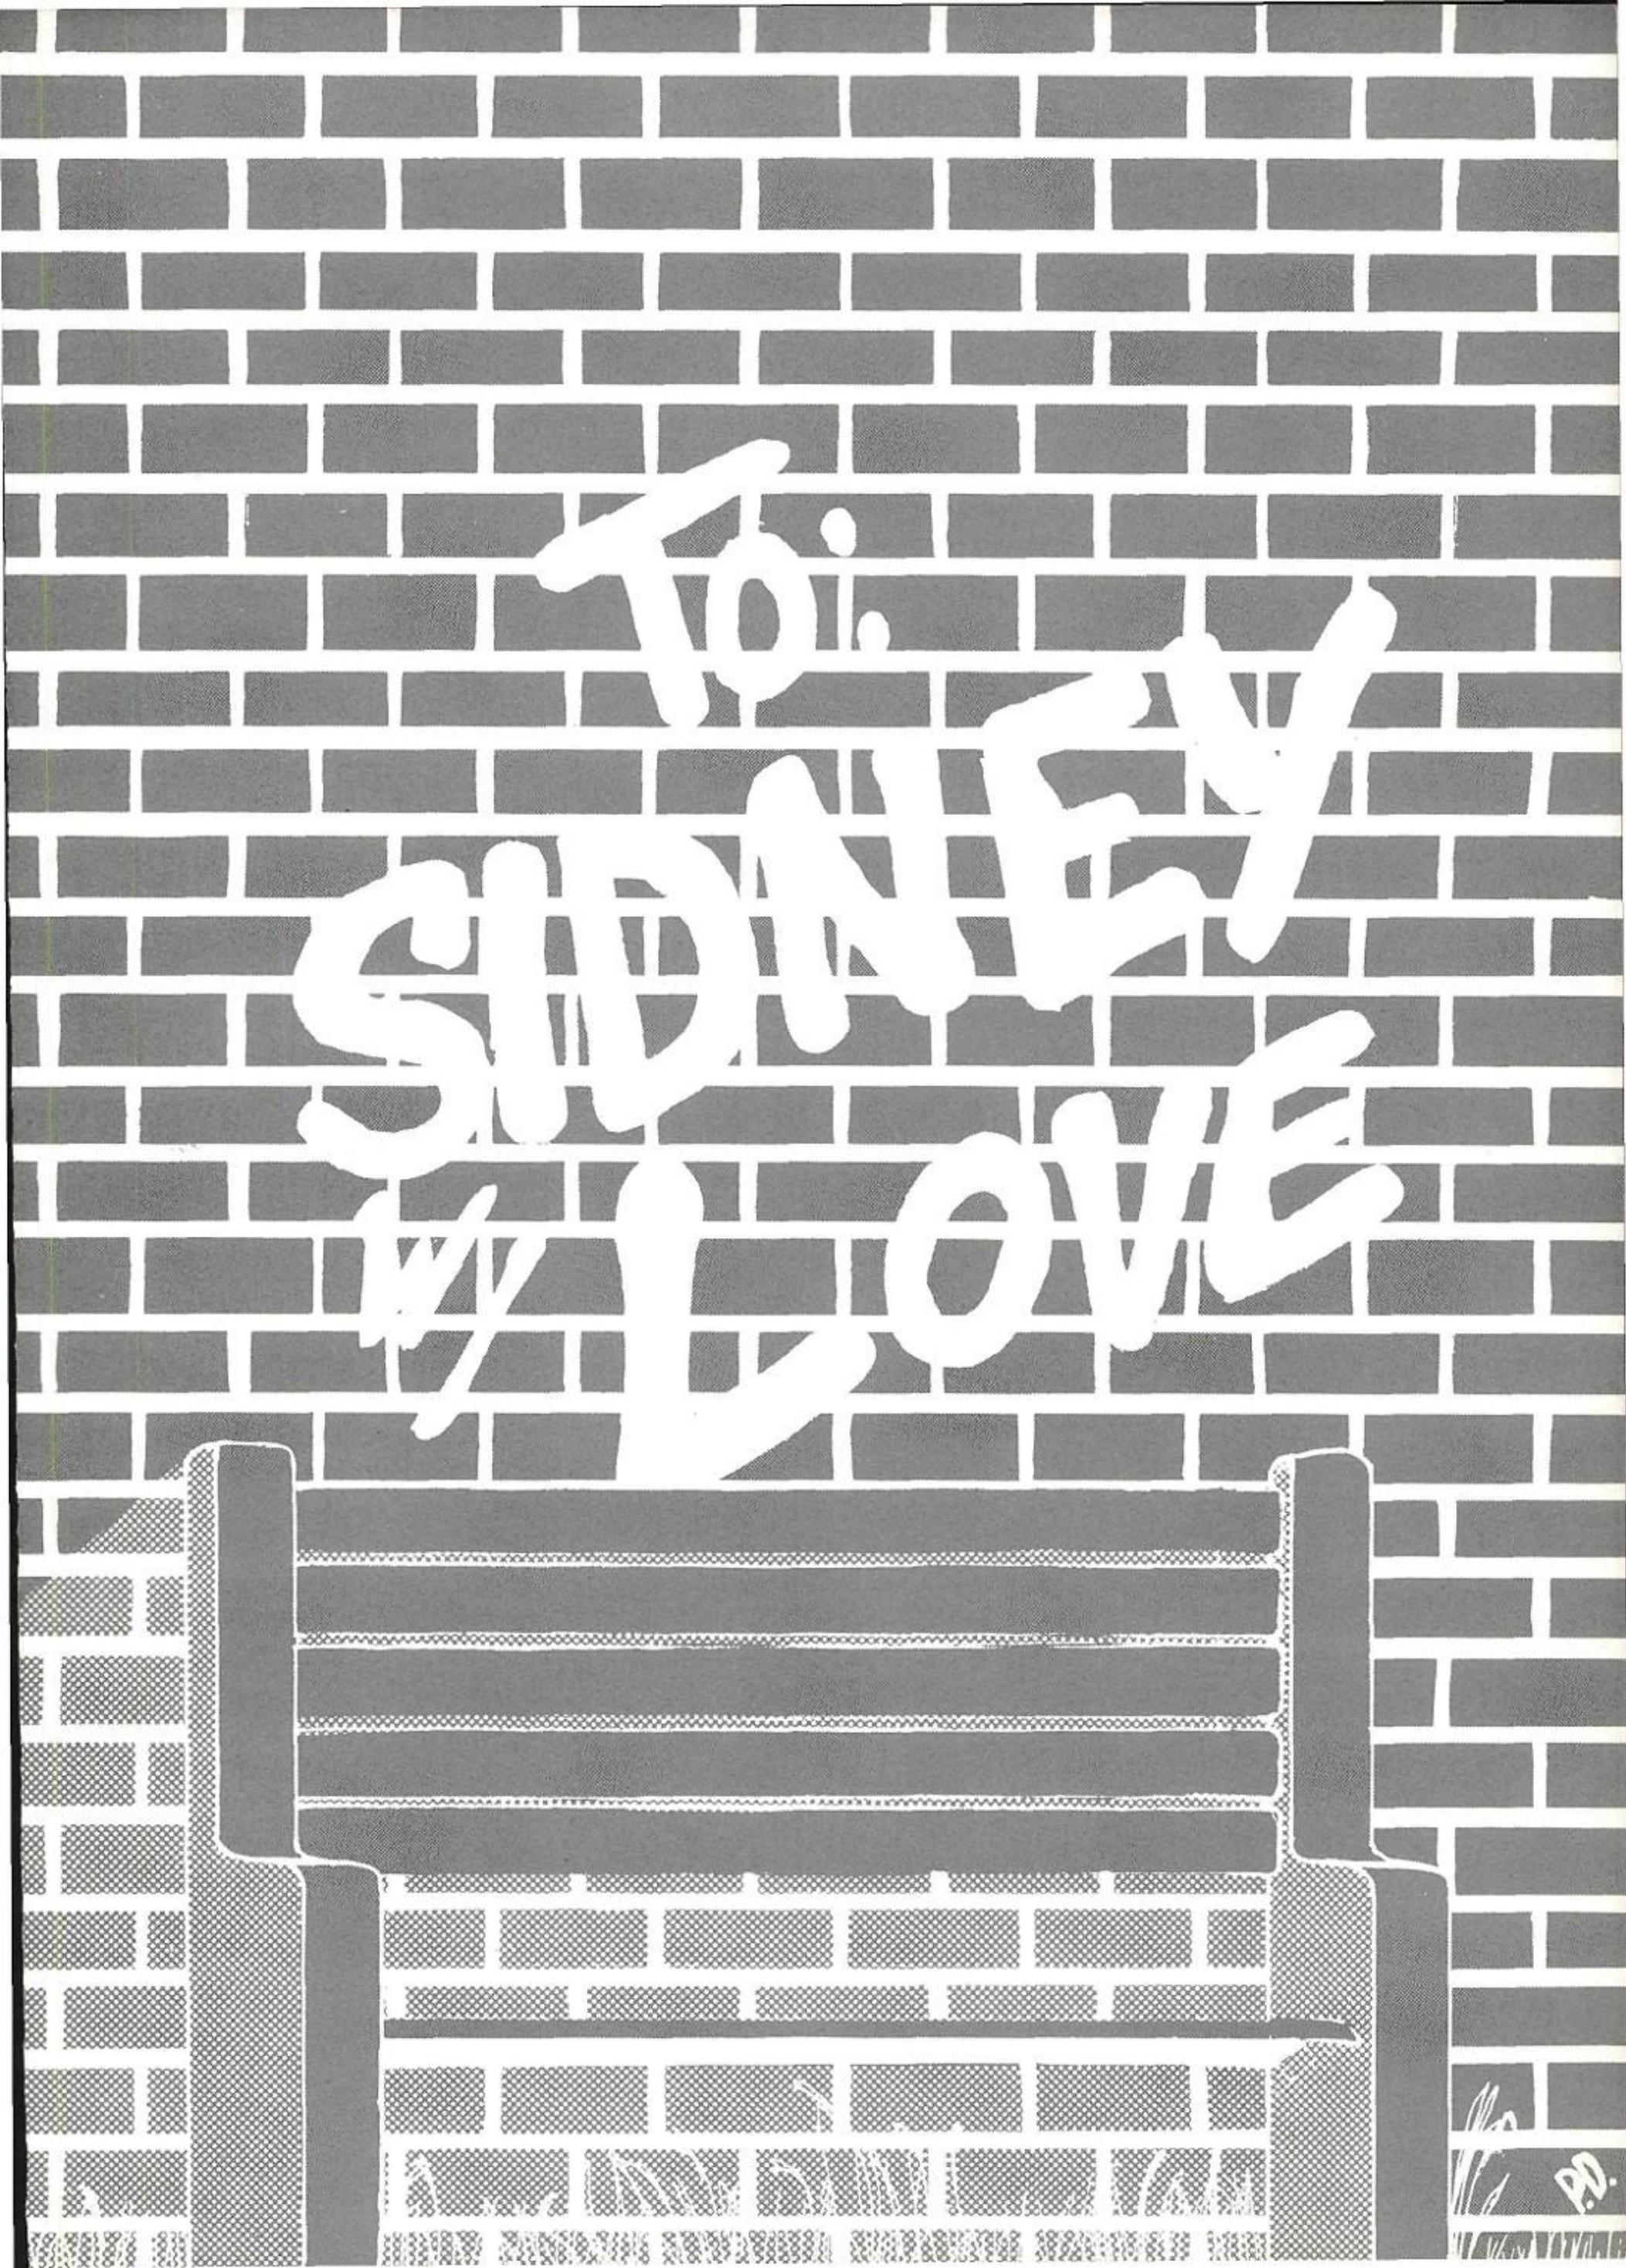

As the first strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" begin, an intense feeling of pride and achievement wells up in the minds of graduates and spectators as the 1984 graduation begins.

Coach Ed Perry and the whole Boys' Soccer Team are very proud after winning the District Championship.

District Championship —

"Working with the soccer team this year was an extremely satisfying experience. I am very proud of these young men. They persevered against tremendous odds and came out winners . . . They played in freezing cold weather and didn't quit. They played with little support and didn't quit. They ignored all those who would dismiss their sport as unimportant, and didn't quit. And so they won. They won 15 games; they won the district championship, the first Lanier varsity team to do so in many years. And they won the hearts of all those who came to the games and saw them play. They represented Lanier with dedication, courage, and honor. They are the champions."

April 6 at Six-Flags

Some members of the Mighty Class of '84 after the journey.

It was a tiring day.

Crystella misses her family, already.

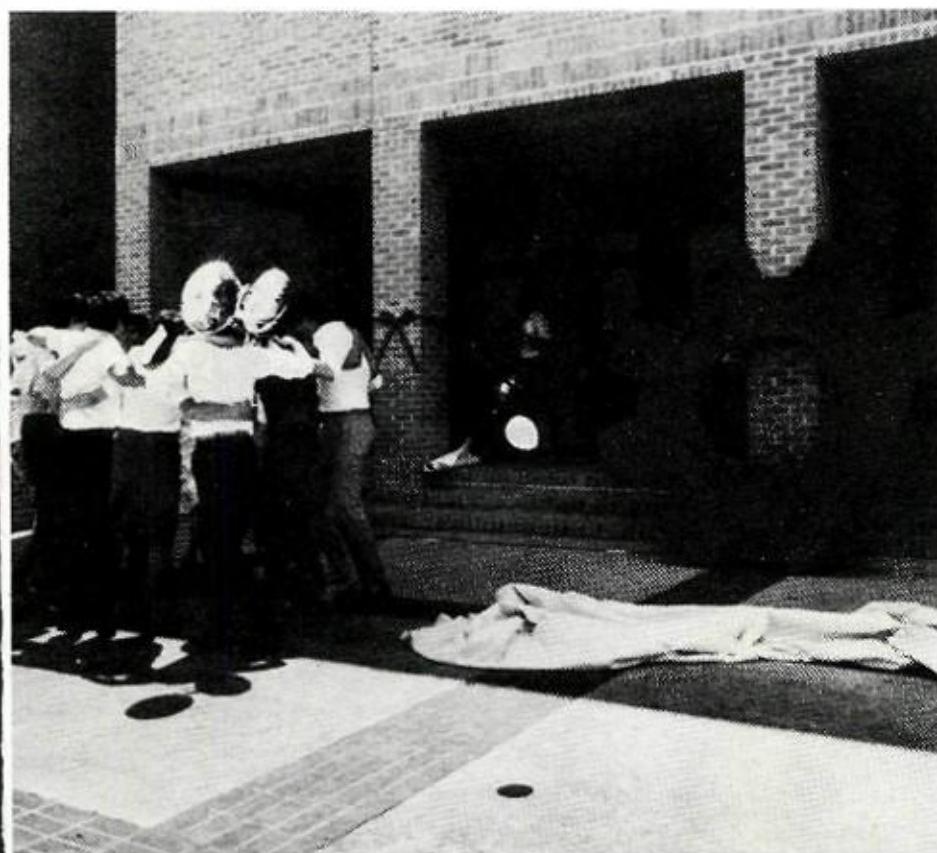

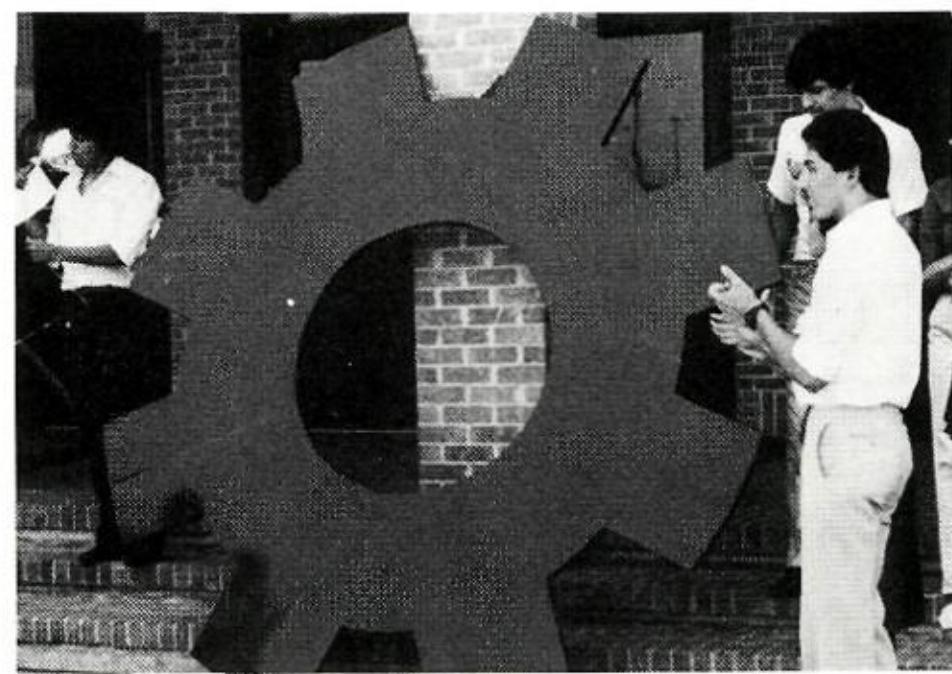

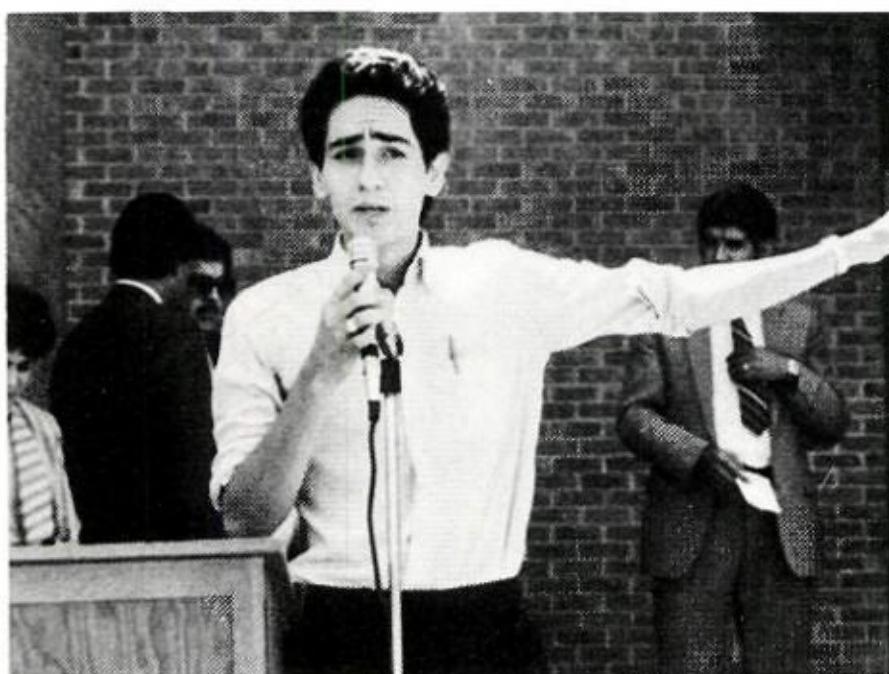

Letty and Mary were busy shopping.

This year the senior class went to Six Flags on their senior trip. The trip was full of fun and excitement and will leave a wonderful memory for most of the seniors.

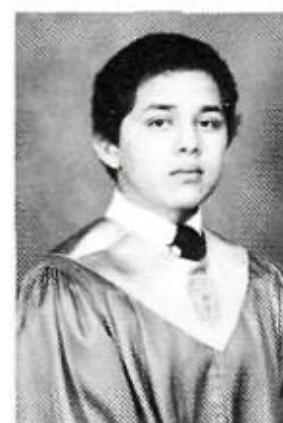

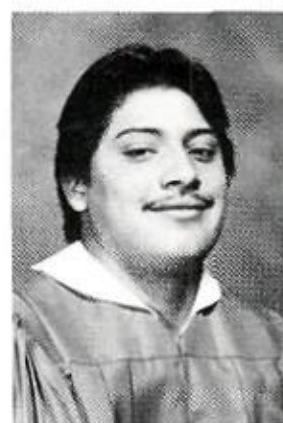

'84 Seniors Give Lasting Gift

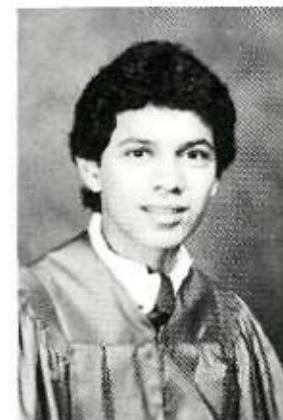

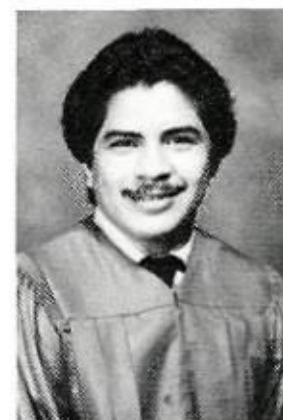

The Class of '84 gave a gift of appreciation to Lanier High School. On May 25, 1984, a large metal Vok was presented to the school at a ceremony of appreciation. The Vok has been placed on the east wall of the school with the letters that read, "Home of the Lanier Voks."

Senior year, a time of fun, meeting friends, and great memories. Memories of football games, pep rallies, Chili Bowl, senior activities, friends and wonderful teachers. Seniors will never forget all the good times and all the fun they had during their year. Now it was time to get ready . . . ready to order graduation rings, invitations, calling cards and other things for graduation. And finally . . . graduation. It seems that time has gone by really fast, and now the future is in sight. Our dreams of graduating have now become reality. Now our senior year is just a memory . . . One big wonderful memory. Best of luck, Seniors.

Junior Class Officers

Freshmen Just Want

John's going to be a GQ. centerfold for sure.

Gee, she's pretty.

Yolanda and her friend talking about the latest gossip.

Cindy and Ralph are really in love.

Oh my gosh! I think she's dead.

to Have Fun —

Hey am I the only one who did my homework?

Don't look now but they're taking our picture.

This girl just wants to have fun . . .

Paul wants to be in GQ. like John.

Roger says, "I'm going to be in pictures."

He's probably thinking about his girl.

Graduates at Last!

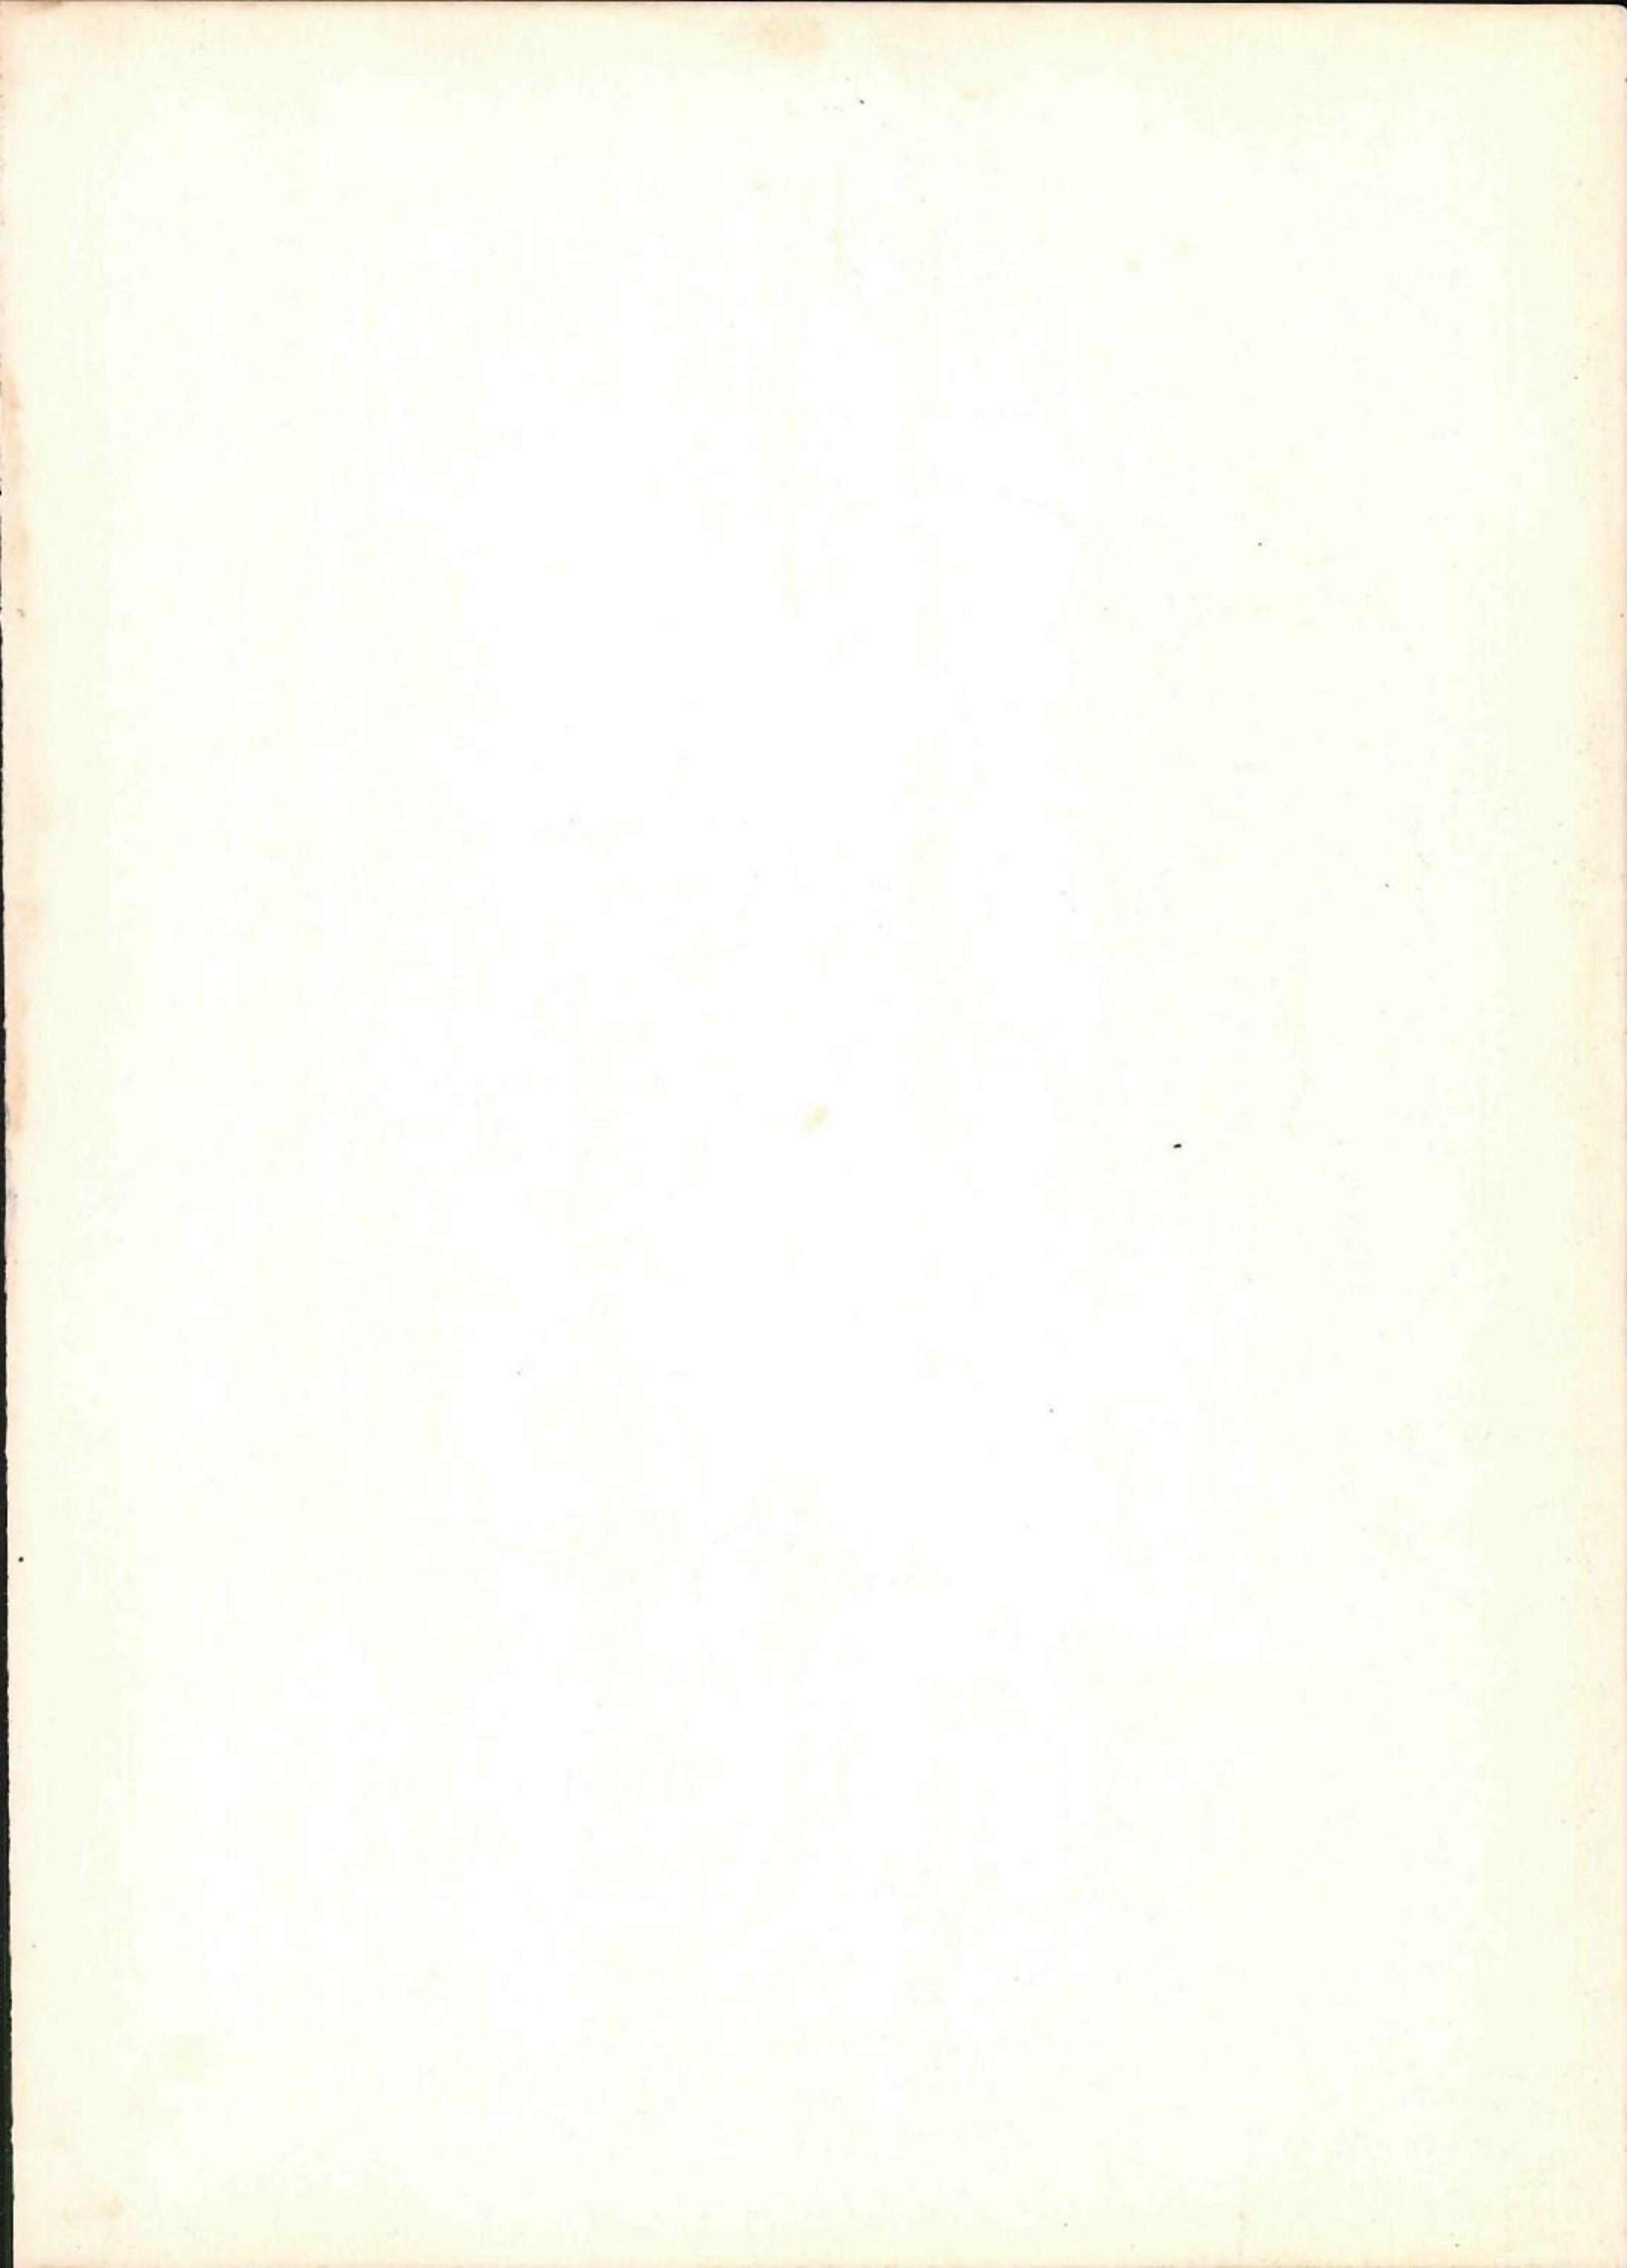

Tears . . . laughter . . . excitement filled the Arena as graduation ended and seniors mingled to give and receive hugs and kisses from friends. This was a celebration of the last moments of the Class of 1984 all together, sharing the magic of their night.

Slowly the class dispersed with each graduate leaving to begin the rest of his or her life.
